

Hello fellow Kiwanians!

I am Jen Drummond and I am running in the Circle-K Club elections for Public Relations Officer and/or Membership Development Officer. I am in my first year at the University of Ottawa, and I joined the Kiwanis Club at the beginning of the year, when I was initially attracted by the prospect of free candy. Since then, however, it has become much more than that. I have participated in many of the events that the Kiwanis club has held throughout the year, including bake sales, barbecues, and the spaghetti dinner. I have also attended meetings on fairly regular basis, as well as attending one of the luncheons at the Chateau Laurier. I have come to realize what a great difference service clubs such as ours can make both in the local community, and in the global community. In addition to this, clubs such as the Kiwanis Club foster a sense of community within a school because they encourage people to work together towards common goals, and to meet people with whom they might not have otherwise become acquainted. For a first year student coming to The University of Ottawa, joining a club like ours is a great way to meet new people. As Public Relations Officer, I would emphasize these qualities of the club when recruiting new members. As a Membership Development Officer, I would try to ensure the continued success of the club by keeping current members interested and encouraging them to be get involved in as many ways as possible. I would also attempt to recruit people from various faculties in order to ensure the diversity of the club, and its popularity throughout all of the faculties. As an English major myself, I could help balance out the dynamics of the club a bit by representing the arts side campus, bringing different perspective to the table. In this school year, I have shown my dedication to the club, and being on the executive next year would allow me the opportunity to learn more about the club so that I could be of better service to it in both the short term and in the years to come. Vote for me if you want a dedicated volunteer, devoted to maintaining the vitality of the club, encouraging a positive social atmosphere, and making sure everyone has fun while benefiting others!

Sincerely,

Jen Drummond
