

I get money... money I got

I'm sorry but it's tax season and I'm just SO SO ExCiTeD!!!!!!

If you haven't guessed it by now I want to be your next Treasurer. My name is Kiarash Rokui and I'm currently a first year student studying Biomedical Sciences. I know how annoying it could be when you have exam after exam and elections come along. You then notice that the candidates ramble on and on like I am doing so I'm going to keep it short.

I looked at the duties of the treasurer: Collect money, keep a close watch on where the money goes and distribute it accordingly, prepare a budget. Inform others of the financial status of the club... And so forth. I can do that. Moreover, I will do the duties assigned to me and will fit my duties into any schedule I have. Furthermore, I'll be accountable and be there when I am needed. But to do my duties, I need to be elected. So on D-Day, remember Kia like the car company and vote for Kiarash.
